Foreign Intelligence.

FROM EUROPE.

LIVERPOOL.—The Liverpool packet ship of the 8th ult. has arrived, and also a chance ship—the Iron Baron. Capt. M. Kinsley, from the Iron Baron, bringing advices to the 12th, and the Iron Baron of the 13th ult. It will be seen by the subjoined extracts, that the indemnity Bill was again under discussion in the Chamber of Peers on the 11th of June; and the subject was to be resumed on the following day. Capt. M. Kinsley brings a verbal report, which reached him on the 15th, while lying off the harbor, that the bill was passed on the 13th of June precisely, in the form in which it had been reported. But whether by this is meant, as first reported to the Deputies, or as reported to the Peers from the Deputies, does not appear. The difference is essential as it involves the amendment of Gen. Valaze requiring an explanation from the American Government.

FRANCE.
CHAMBER OF PEERS.
Presidency of M. le Baron Pasquier.
SESSION OF 11TH JUNE.

The Chamber proceeds to the discussion of the law tending to insure the execution of the treaty of 4th July, 1831.

The Duke de Noailles, the first orator on the question, thinks that any thing has been said on the question—he votes against the project of law, and reiterates the arguments already victoriously combated in the Chamber of Deputies.

M. Guizot, Minister of Public Instruction.

Gentlemen—The Noble Duke who has just left the Tribunes has alluded to what he calls the antecedents of the treaty. He thinks he discovers in the manner in which the negotiation has been conducted, cause of suspicion against the treaty, and yet from these same antecedents, I draw conclusions directly opposite, and first, I must remind the Chamber that the treaty is not the work of the present Ministry, and notwithstanding, the present ministers have not hesitated to adopt it.

An offence afforded to the French Government the right to defer the bringing the treaty before the Chambers. Ministers did nothing of the kind, because the government considered the accomplishment of the treaty a want of the country, as a thing necessary to her prosperity, it has supported the treaty as an act of justice, as required by the national interest.

From this it is to be inferred, that the Ministers entertain a profound conviction of the justice, of the necessity of the treaty, and far from discovering in the circumstances which have surrounded the treaty with unfavorable antecedents, I believe that never a more profound conviction could be invoked! It is, then, under the influence of this favorable presumption, I proceed to examine the different objections presented by the noble Duke.

He has treated the matter first as a question of right, then as a question of political interest, and finally, as a question of commercial interest. These are, I believe, the three positions which have been assumed by the noble Duke.

The Americans at all times have protested against the violation of the rights of neutral powers. At all times they have opposed the application of the Berlin and Milan Decrees. I shall not enter into an examination of these decrees—it is the great question of the Continental blockade—it is a question on which the best men have been divided in opinion. I do not mean in America alone, but in France; and it was, I assert, a question of so doubtful a character, even in France, as to render it a proper subject for an arrangement (une transaction).

Notwithstanding the difficulty of the question no arrangement (transaction) took place. The Americans abandoned their pretensions, and explicitly acknowledged the validity of the decrees of Berlin and Milan, since they were to reduce their demands to vessels sequestered in consequence of the irregular application of these same decrees, they have therefore adopted the principles laid down.

The question thus reduced, there was ground for liquidation. But we know the danger of such liquidation. It appears to me incorrect to say that the sum has been fixed on demands of the Americans, varying incessantly and incessantly augmenting. Here again the advantage remained with France. The negotiator admitted categories. The French Government made an estimate, no liquidation took place, but an actual arrangement (transaction) which had for its basis the French documents alone. I presume I may dispense with an examination of the categories, since the honorable member has not objected to them.

I proceed then to the second question, that of political interest. The political interest of France rendered this arrangement necessary, and I do not deny that it had its influence on the conclusion of the treaty. I admit that political interest did effect, to a certain extent, the determination of the Government, but the position in which the Government found itself must be taken into consideration, it had just seen broken, dissolved, the great tie of European policy, it saw forming a round, groups favorable to a particular system of policy. Under these circumstances it was of importance to ally ourselves with people whose constitutions harmonized with the principles of our government.

It is for this we attach a great importance to the alliance with England. It is for this we ought to desire an alliance with America, an alliance desirable for France whatever may be the system of policy we follow.

The advantages which may result from it, cannot I know be reduced to figures. I therefore shall not attempt it. Political interest indeed the Government then to show itself favorably inclined to the American claims; we were interested in so doing, for there we proclaimed respect and support of neutrals. The orator then entered into an examination of the rights of neutrals and concluded from this examination, that the treaty was necessary in a political point of view, as well as advantageous in a commercial point of view.

The minister then entered into an examination of the treaty for the cession of Louisiana, and observed that the noble duke who had preceded him had fallen into an error in saying that the 8th article of the treaty of cession of Louisiana enabled France to withstand, in all the states of the Union, the competition of English Commerce. He had not noticed that this treaty was applicable only to French goods imported in French vessels. The calculations, therefore, which the honorable member has presented, fall with the bases on which they are founded.

A question of constitutional political right has also been discussed. National honor has been spoken of. Gentlemen—the Government of July has not now to give proof of devotion to national honor. Such proofs may be found in the attitude of its army, of its navy.

The government is the offspring of national spirit; its existence, its duration in Europe, these are the best pledges of its dignity. The government can never boast of a more glorious origin. It has now not to give proof of its character; it did this in the cradle. It is perfectly free.

Numerous voices. Good, very good. This speech made a deep impression on the Chamber. The question appears settled, and the Duke de Broglie, in reply to the Count de Rigny, demonstrated conclusively how honorable it was to France to discharge her debt, and how advantageous to her, at the same time, was the mode of liquidation.

Some other orators were heard, and the sitting closed at 6 o'clock.

A correspondent of the New York Mercantile Advertiser, at Marseille, under date of June 2d, gives the following account of what is deemed an outrage to the American Consul, Mr. Croxall, by the authorities at that place:

"You will no doubt have heard ere this reaches you, of the treatment the American Consul has been subject to, on account of a drunken servant woman, whom he put out of his house. He was imprisoned for some time, tried by the Court d'assizes and acquitted by the jury; but the acquittal, together with the lawyers and doctors for the plaintiff, formed what they called a civil court, and condemned him to a fine of 2000 francs and costs. According to the opinion of many, this act was done from a spite against the Consul, he being an American, and from some observations made by the judge, or president, on account of the 25 million affair—which is likely, the Americans not being on such good terms as formerly, especially with the opposition. The Consul has written to Paris to appeal, and but little doubt exists that he will there obtain redress. Such a decision has never before been known, which gives the affair a more aggravated appearance."

SPAIN.

PARIS, June 12.

The question of intervention is arranged between the powers which are parties to the Quadruple Treaty, and the English journals received yesterday fully confirm what we have written on the subject. A new energy is to be given to the execution of the Treaty. The resources which will be placed at the disposal of General Valdez, will enable him probably to assume the offensive, while the active co-operation of the allies of Queen Isabel II. will give to her Government a more energetic action against the factions which oppose her authority.

France without doubt will fulfil her duties with the same fidelity. A convention has just been signed between the diplomatists representing Spain and Portugal, by virtue of which an auxiliary Portuguese legion is to march, at the expense of Spain, to the aid of Valdez. Fresh munitions and arms will be sent from England to the Peninsula, if required, and an Order in Council will authorize his Majesty's subjects disposed to engage in the service, to enter the Portuguese legion, or serve under the immediate orders of Valdez.

LONDON, June 8, (Evening.)

A correspondent of the Morning Herald says, under date of 2nd June:—"I can announce it as a positive fact, that 5 days ago orders were received at Bayonne by telegraph for General Harispe, to hold himself in readiness to enter Spain at any moment; and the officers have consequently collected the horses and material necessary for the campaign. Yesterday the telegraph brought a counter order. The General was directed to suspend his operations. There have been placed to day between La Croix du Bugues and the bridge of Behobie, forming the line of the frontier, more than thirty pieces of cannon, and munitions, together with arms and baggage.

On the other hand a letter from St. Sebastian of May 26th, received here, says, "It appears that the commandant of a French ship of war which has been for a long time at anchor in the passage, has received orders to regard the Carlists as open enemies of France, and to treat them accordingly."

PORTUGAL.

LEONOR, May 25.

Don Miguel is awaking from his lethargy. He is now in the city of Oporto, and embarked at Civita Vecchia, on board the steamboat Bully, which arrived here the day before yesterday, and left the same day for Genoa and Marseille. It is said that Don Miguel was seen here habited as a servant, and that the next day he arrived at Genoa in the same dress. There is no doubt but he will go by land to Turin as a servant of some personage. It is probable he will take the route for Geneva, and proceed to Holland, where he will find a government disposed to aid him.

ENGLAND.

Instructing Members in their Seats.

For a considerable time past, the electors of St. Andrews have been endeavoring to drive their representative Mr. A. Johnson, out of his seat in the Commons under the plea that he had given a pledge to a certain course, which he has not redeemed. They then instructed him to resign. But he refuses to obey. A petition to Parliament, upon the subject, was consequently presented, on the first of June, by Mr. Ephinstone, in behalf of the electors, and a long discussion took place as to whether the member could be required to enter into explanation in the house, of the charge against him of having violated "pledges," and having refused to resign his seat. Sir R. Peel and others resisted the explanation, as establishing a dangerous precedent, and as involving the house in difficulties, no charge having been made in the house. Lord Howick concurred in these sentiments, and hoped that they might now proceed to farther business. [Very properly disposed of.]

In the House of Commons, on the 5th of June, Lord John Russell brought forward his promised Corporation Reform Bill, and sustained it by a long speech. Sir Robert Peel answered the speech of his Lordship, but in the main, approved of the bill, declaring that the time for corporation reform had fully arrived.

AWFUL SHIPWRECK.

A passenger, who was one of the 15 saved from the wreck of the Monarch, of Liverpool, Capt. Jackson, states that there were 240 souls on board, and that they were six days on their way to N. York, when she struck about midnight, on Thursday, the 28th ult. being then in charge of the mate, who was intoxicated.

Two hundred & twenty-five souls perished; the Captain, 3 sailors and 11 passengers were picked up by the Francis Mary, Flynn master, and brought into Dublin. The passengers were mostly from the county of Limerick; there were only a few from Tipperary, amongst whom were persons of the names of Kenaham and Maher, neighborhood of Cashel.—Limerick Chronicle.

ITALY.

NAPLES, May 23d.

For some days past, a great rumbling has been heard in the interior of Vesuvius, and it has not yet ceased. The enormous mass of volcanic matter proceeding from the successive eruptions which took place from the 25th March to the 1st of April accumulated about the new crater. On the 21st this mass fell with a horrible crash into the abyss below. A dense smoke immediately arose in the form of a pillar, which seemed to mount up to the heavens.

TURKEY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 13.

Tartars nine days from Aleppo, report particulars as to the state of things in Syria which have created a great sensation especially from the Port Emir. Beeher, the Prince of the Druses, has taken advantage of the great embarrassment occasioned to the Pacha by the ravages of the plague.—The Druses fell upon the Egyptians while destitute of succor, the army of Ibrahim was completely defeated; and it is supposed that the Druses will avail themselves of the victory, to make a levy en masse in Syria. The Egyptians cannot hope for reinforcements, for Ibrahim Pacha through fear of the plague, has retired to upper Egypt.

CAIRO, April 25.

The deaths by the plague were yesterday 760. Mehemet Ali is throwing obstacles in the way of our expedition to the Euphrates. Six weeks ago, Col. Campbell applied to the Pacha for a firman similar to that asked by Lord Ponsonby from the Grand Seignor, but no answer was given to the Colonel's application. Meantime he received a copy of a firman granted by the Sultan, which is conceived in the broadest possible terms, and upon renewing his application and exhibiting that document, he is told that he (Mehemet Ali) cannot grant the demand without first advising with the Grand Seignor, whose servant he is, but that a Tartar would be sent off to Constantinople for this purpose; meantime, until the return of the messenger, which may be six weeks hence, the expedition must wait in the bay of Scanderoon, without advancing a single step, for it is only at Bir that they can commence operations. Col. Campbell has remonstrated strongly against the firman being withheld on any such pretext, and has also by this packet advised the government fully on the subject.

Death of a French Regicide.—On Sunday, the 24th May, at Chateaufort, M. Louis Martineau, Deputy of La Vienne, during the Convention, in which he voted for the death of Louis XVI.—He adopted this place of residence after his return from Switzerland, whither he had been exiled in 1816. Having fallen dangerously ill, he solicited the aid of the Church, and gave into the hands of M. Millet, the archpriest and curate of St. Jacques of Chateaufort, the following declaration:—"He died at the age of 84 years, having received the last sacraments of the Church, and was buried the following day. CONSTANTINOPLE, May 13.

Tartars nine days from Aleppo, report particulars as to the state of things in Syria which have created a great sensation especially from the Port Emir. Beeher, the Prince of the Druses, has taken advantage of the great embarrassment occasioned to the Pacha by the ravages of the plague.—The Druses fell upon the Egyptians while destitute of succor, the army of Ibrahim was completely defeated; and it is supposed that the Druses will avail themselves of the victory, to make a levy en masse in Syria. The Egyptians cannot hope for reinforcements, for Ibrahim Pacha through fear of the plague, has retired to upper Egypt.

CAIRO, April 25.

The deaths by the plague were yesterday 760. Mehemet Ali is throwing obstacles in the way of our expedition to the Euphrates. Six weeks ago, Col. Campbell applied to the Pacha for a firman similar to that asked by Lord Ponsonby from the Grand Seignor, but no answer

Colonization Meeting.

GETTYSBURG, July 22, 1835.

In consequence of public notice previously given, a large and respectable meeting of the citizens occurred in the Presbyterian Church, to consider the claims of the Young Men's Colonization Society of Pennsylvania. The meeting was organized by calling JOHN F. MACFARLANE to the Chair, and appointing H. L. BAUGHER Secretary. After an address to the Throne of Grace by Dr. Schmucker, the claims of the Society were presented in an eloquent manner by Mr. ELLIOTT CRESSON and Dr. CUYLER. They showed that the Colonization Society was the friend of the colored man in America and Africa; that it was instrumental in emancipating and removing to their native land between 3 and 4,000 slaves; that by the confession of British officers on the coast, it had contributed more to abolish the slave trade than Great Britain with all her governmental expenditures for that object; and that it was introducing civilization, commerce, intelligence and Christianity, into benighted Africa, whilst it was affording an asylum from outraged oppression to her unfortunate sons in this country. After these interesting addresses had been heard with profound attention, it was, on motion,

Resolved, That a committee of six gentlemen and six ladies be appointed to solicit donations in aid of this cause.

The committee are Messrs. Stevens, A. G. Miller, Dr. Schmucker, Dr. D. Gilbert, Wm. McClellan, Wm. W. Paxton, and Mrs. M. Pherson, Mrs. A. G. Miller, Miss N. Miller, Miss E. Winrott, Miss E. Smith and Mrs. McClellan.

Resolved, That the local clergymen be requested to present the claims of this cause to their respective churches.

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published.

J. F. MACFARLANE, Chair'n.
H. L. BAUGHER, Sec'y.

HORATIO G. JAMESON, late of the Washington Medical College of Baltimore, has been appointed Professor of Surgery in the Medical College of the Cincinnati College of Ohio.

Bank of the U. States.—The operations of this institution will close on the 4th of March next, except so far as may be necessary to wind up its business. In anticipation of this it has closed its offices at Utica, Hartford and Portsmouth, and ordered the office in Nashville to collect its old debts by the 4th day of March next, and to close its new business, founded on Bills to be drawn on N. Orleans in anticipation of the growing crop, within six months from the 1st day of November next, thereby to enable the Parent Bank to withdraw its office from that place by the 1st of May next.

Balt. Chron.

Another late arrival from Europe presents us with European advices to the middle of last month. The American Indemnity Bill passed the French House of Peers by a majority of 103; this bill contains the clause requiring an apology for the language of the President's Message. As the whole tenor and bearing of this matter has been laid before the French Nation in the excellent letter of Mr. Livingston, they must be content with the explanation given, or seek satisfaction in the usual way.

A large Belgian force was about entering Spain in aid of the Queen, which, with the army nearly ready to embark from England, will soon restore tranquility to that country, and annihilate the prospects and hopes of Carlos.

An unexpected change in the Portuguese Ministry seems to have been caused by the predilections of the young Queen for the son of the King of France, for whom she had taken a fancy in a visit to Paris some time since. A majority of the old Ministry, including several of the Queen's nearest relations, having other objects in view, opposed the union, but the Queen remained inflexible, and compelled the Ministry to give place to those more favorable to her wishes.

Balt. Gazette.

The able Secretary of the Treasury, on seeing the account of the imprisonment for debt at this place, of three revolutionary soldiers, immediately addressed a letter, full of benevolence and feeling, to a gentleman here, covering the means for their discharge from prison.

Burlington (Vt.) Sentinel.

From the Frederick (Md.) Examiner.

In DANIEL WEBSTER we have a type of our principles, of whom we have just cause to be proud—at once their offspring and their defender. Nurtured in poverty, with no heritage but the rich endowments of Nature, he has, by the force of his genius and talents alone, emerged from obscurity, and placed himself on the top-most round of the ascent of fame; thus beautifully illustrating the truly republican character of our institutions, whose fostering care he has repaid by defending them in a speech which will be their ever-enduring commentary. Where is the man in this nation who has read the speech on Foot's resolutions, that has not done homage to the powers of mind that produced that splendid effort of human genius? There is not one! All rejoiced, however some may have differed as to the correctness of his conclusions, that the author was an American citizen, and stifled their sectional jealousies in homage to the talent.

This was the brightest incident in the brilliant career of this eminent statesman, whose most ordinary services to this country far transcend those of the office-holders' candidate.

Another Rail Road projected.—Mr. John M. Berrien, of the U. States Topographical Engineers, has lately been engaged in surveying a route for a Rail Road, from Detroit to Lake Michigan, at the mouth of the river St. Joseph.

The report being so favorable, and so much interest being felt on the subject by the citizens of Michigan generally, "justifies the expectation," says the Detroit Journal, "that it will be commenced without delay." Already, we believe, have arrangements been made to carry it through as far as Ypsilanti. Its incalculable importance to that portion of the peninsula, through which it may pass, and especially to Detroit, is becoming apparent to every man, and especially to those who may have recently journeyed on any of the public avenues leading west. Capitalists and men of business, Mechanics, Artisans, and Laborers from abroad, are every day settling in this Territory, in anticipation of the benefits which will be derived from this important work.

The distance from Detroit to Chicago, by way of the Lakes, is 700 miles; by land only 250. From Detroit to Saint Joseph's, by way of the Lakes, is about 675 miles; by the route of the rail road only 195 miles.

The White Lead manufactory of Messrs. James McCandless & Co. Fifth-st., Cincinnati, was destroyed by fire on the night of the 9th inst. Loss about $12,000.

Ludicrous Occurrence.—Yesterday morning, at the Court of Sessions in this city, a prisoner of the name of Charles Stewart, from Scotland, was called to the bar, and found guilty of stealing a horse, value $150, from a Mr. Cope of Hurl Gate, on the 6th inst. The horse was sold to a Mr. Lyons of this city, who restored it to the owner on Thursday last. The case was just on the eve of being disposed of, when the whole court was thrown into the greatest astonishment by the prisoner's counsel, Mr. Brady, getting up and submitting to the court, "what the verdict be set aside, as the prisoner, Charles Stewart, was a female."

The greatest excitement prevailed at this announcement, and the most intense feeling was excited in the audience to obtain a sight of the prisoner. A Mr. Cornal was called to prove the fact of the sex of the prisoner, (who looks just like a man,) on being questioned, said that she had been a sailor for three years, and had been in a number of ships. She had also worked at the farming business on Long Island, during the whole time of which she had passed as a man. The case excited the greatest merriment in the court, every person eagerly trying to get a sight at the prisoner. It appears that her sex had not been discovered until within the last few days at the police. The objection of her counsel was overruled by the court, as, although the prisoner was a female, yet the identity of the person was certain.—The prisoner was attired in a blue jacket and trousers.—N. Y. Courier.

Small Pox.—An opinion of no small importance, if correct, was stated by Dr. Gregory, before the London College of Physicians, on Monday, the 27th of April, as we learn by an eastern paper, in the course of an essay which he then read, on the mutual relation between the vaccine and small pox virus. He considered the vaccine lymph to have lost much of its virtue from having passed through the systems of too many persons, thirty-five years having elapsed since matter was obtained direct from the cow, for the purpose of vaccination. He was led to this conclusion by the prevalence of small pox at this time in England, and the number of established cases in which the disease had been taken by persons who had been vaccinated. He thought it indispensable to insure the proper effect to this preventive process, that fresh matter should be obtained from its original source.

The editor of the Pittsburgh Times mentions the occurrence of several cases of Cholera in that city, while the Advocate affirms that the "health of Pittsburgh was never better than at the present moment."

A very severe gale was experienced on the 26th inst. on the 26th inst. The damage done to shipping at Quebec is estimated at £20,000.

Penn's Cottage.—The first house built in Philadelphia, after the arrival of Wm. Penn's Colony, is still standing. It is situated in Lotius Court, which runs south from Market Street. It is a small house 28 feet by 30 and 2 stories high.

MAD ELEPHANT.

One of the Nabob's servants, met a most shocking and horrible death yesterday. An Elephant belonging to Chappauk Palace became suddenly attacked with a paroxysm of furious madness, broke loose and seized the first person that came in his way, by the trunk, twisted him round over his head with tremendous violence, dashed him to the ground, and kept striking the lifeless body to the earth till having exhausted his fury upon this one victim, he abandoned the corpse. He then chased such others as dared to approach him, but these were fortunate enough to keep out of his reach. The animal afterwards fairly knocked down two other elephants sent to overcome him.—The gates of the Palace compound were immediately shut, and the keepers endeavored to go up and pacify him. He walked gently off from them until they were emboldened to walk up to him, when he suddenly turned round and pelted after them at the top of his speed. He did this several times, and a trooper went express to the Nabob, to know what was to be done. Upon his arrival the guards turned out and were ordered to fire upon the elephant. The animal was eventually taken, but not till he had received 20 balls.—He is now in safe custody.—Madras Gaz.

CHOLERA.

This disease has re-appeared at Madison, Indiana, and was raging at the last accounts, with much violence, five cases having occurred in one afternoon between three o'clock and dark. The citizens were again flying to the country. We have heard the causes of the disease attributed to the effluvia arising from the immense quantities of hogs which were killed there last winter, and which was permitted to remain in the yards and cellars of those who slaughtered them.—We are informed that a similar neglect was practised at Chicago, the stench arising from which is intolerable, and that the cholera was daily expected to break out there also.

Infamous.—The N. Y. Evening Post, a leading Van Buren paper, expresses its satisfaction at the death of Chief Justice Marshall!!!—We had thought such a being could not be found in the Union. The satellites of power will no doubt rejoice that the Judiciary may now be made subservient to the Executive power of the Government!

Horticultural.—The ladies will thank us for telling them that the best things to promote the growth of their flowers and vegetables is the soap-suds in which clothes have been washed. The suds ordinarily produced in a family, is a sufficient manure for a good sized kitchen or flower garden.

During a tremendous thunder storm on Monday night last, the mail stage from Portland to Bangor, was upset and precipitated down a bank a distance of 25 feet, without any injury to passengers, driver, or horses. Such a statement certainly makes a strong call upon our credulity—especially as it is added that the carriage was brought up upon a rocky bottom—but seeing it in a newspaper, we suppose we must believe it.—We agree perfectly with the opinion of the passengers, that it was a Providential escape.

The six per cent. Loan of one million of dollars authorized by the State of Maryland, to complete the Rail Road from this city to the borough of York, Pa. was, we learn, taken yesterday in Annapolis, under a joint offer, by Messrs. J. I. Cohen, Jr. & Brothers, and A. Brown & Sons, of this city, and Thomas Biddle & Co., of Philadelphia.—Balt. Gaz.

How to acquire knowledge.—Young man, would you be intelligent? Carry a book about you always. Not a novel, but a work of utility—a work in which you read of realities, not fiction. Would you be wise? Open and read that book, whenever you have a moment of leisure. I recollect to have read an anecdote of a shoemaker, who always kept a book open before him, so that he might not lose a moment, but be preparing for future usefulness; and the result was that he became not only one of the most eminent, but one of the most useful men of his day. Why, my young friend, may you not be pursuing a similar course, also become eminent and useful to your country and your fellow men? Adopt the course and give a fair trial, and if you do not succeed to the extent of your ambition, I will guarantee that you will not be the worse mechanic or citizen for the experiment.

BACK VOLUMES OF THE ## MUSEUM.

THE proprietor of Little's Museum of Foreign Literature, Science and Art, has determined to dispose of the remaining sets of the back volumes at a very reduced price, one half only of the original subscription. He thus offers to Library Companies, Reading Rooms, and to gentlemen forming a selection of books, an opportunity of purchasing 20 large and extremely valuable miscellaneous volumes, at a price far below their cost or value; an opportunity which must necessarily be of short duration, and which cannot occur again. The following terms will not be deviated from if orders are received within the present year, 1835, beyond which period the proprietor will not be bound by the present notice.

1. Sets of twenty complete volumes will be supplied in numbers for $30 00 cash.

2. Sets of twenty complete volumes nearly half bound in blue or red morocco $40 00 cash.

The purchaser who orders bound sets may have his or her name printed in gold on the back without any additional charge.

The Museum contents consists of the best selections from the entire range of British periodical literature; Reviews, Essays, Tales, Poetry, &c., and it may emphatically be asserted that no periodical ever published retains its interest, or that the back volumes bear the same relative value as the Museum.

The back sets of twenty volumes remaining on hand, are not numerous, and are rapidly going off. Address

A REMEDY FOR ## RHEUMATISM!

THE excruciating pain—the decrepitude and deformity, and the premature old age, which are the usual attendants of this disorder, are suffered by many from a despair of cure, or disappointment in the efficacy of the numerous pretended antidotes used to effect this purpose. But those who have made a fair trial of even in cases of long standing, and of the most severe character, have received certain relief, and many have been cured in a few days, some in 24 hours! as a number of persons in Boston and vicinity, who were formerly afflicted with the Rheumatism, have very fully testified. Certificates are in the possession of the Proprietor, proving the most thorough and surprising cures by means of this powerful LINIMENT, in cases where other approved applications had utterly failed. The Liniment is also used with success for bruises, sprains, numbness, stiffness of the joints, chilblains, &c.

Price 50 cents a bottle.

RHEUMATISM.

EYE WATER,

FOR sore or inflamed Eyes, gives immediate ease and relief. On recent sore eyes the effect is most salutary. Where the complaint has been of years standing, and in some exceedingly bad cases, the most unexpected and desirable relief has been found in the use of this EYE WATER, after every other remedy had failed. Many persons who have used it, pronounce it the best preparation for these complaints they have ever met with, especially in cases of soreness or inflammation of long standing. Price 25 cents a bottle.

None are genuine unless signed on the outside printed wrapper, by the sole proprietor, T. KIDDER, immediate successor to the late Dr. W. T. Conway. For sale at his Counting Room, over No. 99, Court street, near Concert Hall, Boston, and also by his special appointment by
